

Did you know?

ALL employees share in the responsibility of preventing foodborne illness (food poisoning).

Idaho's Food Code REQUIRES you to report to your manager if you:

- ✓ Have one of these symptoms:
 - Diarrhea
 - Fever
 - Jaundice (yellowing of the skin)
 - Sore throat with fever
 - Persistent sneezing, coughing or runny nose
- ✓ Have a boil or infected wound on the hands, wrists or arms
- ✓ Recently were sick with a foodborne illness (food poisoning)
- ✓ Live in the same household as a person diagnosed with a foodborne illness or a person who works in a place where there is a confirmed foodborne illness outbreak

! Bacteria and viruses like E.coli, Norovirus and Salmonella can be easily passed to others through food handling and interaction, and can cause foodborne illness.

Thank you for your cooperation and help in keeping customers healthy!
