

Are you a new parent?

If you are a parent of an infant almost three months old, you may be eligible to participate in a study conducted by researchers at Boise State University.

Playthings for every stage of your child's development.

In this study, we are trying to understand if giving new parents Lovevery® playthings helps them learn about child development and if it increases the amount of time they spend interacting with their babies.

Participants will receive:

- Two sets of developmentally appropriate Lovevery playthings with information about how to use them

Parents will need to:

- Respond to one survey at the beginning of the study
- Complete a Knowledge of Infant Development survey at the beginning and end of the study
- Complete the Ages & Stages Questionnaire at the beginning and end of the study
- Complete a 5 min survey each week

Details

- All of the surveys and questionnaires can be completed on-line
- Lovevery playthings will be delivered to your home at no cost to participants
- The study takes place over a six-month period
